AND WHEN HE RETURNS

Kilohana Art League Notes

Miss Annie Parke has gone to Maui on a sketching tour and vacation. She, like so many of the members of the pictorial circle, is preparing for the next exhibition.

Upon the return of her daughter, Anna, Mrs. Tucker expects to go camping in Wahiawa with Miss Lawrence and Miss Hartwell. Other duties have prevented Mrs. Tucker from contributing to the exhibitions of late years, but perhaps she will bring back for the autumn show a few bits of the mountains of Oahu's new summer resort.

The art league extends to all a cordial invitation to the china painting exhibition to be given under its auspices on Tuesday, July 16th, from two to six. Mrs. Moore's work is very interesting, and all will be glad to see her new work, done while in San Francisco.

The city improvement circle is at last on the track of the work most needed to be done. Since the arrival of the photographic club under the hospitable roof of the art league building, the plan used on the mainland of picturing the "before and after" of the work of improvement has met with the approval of all.

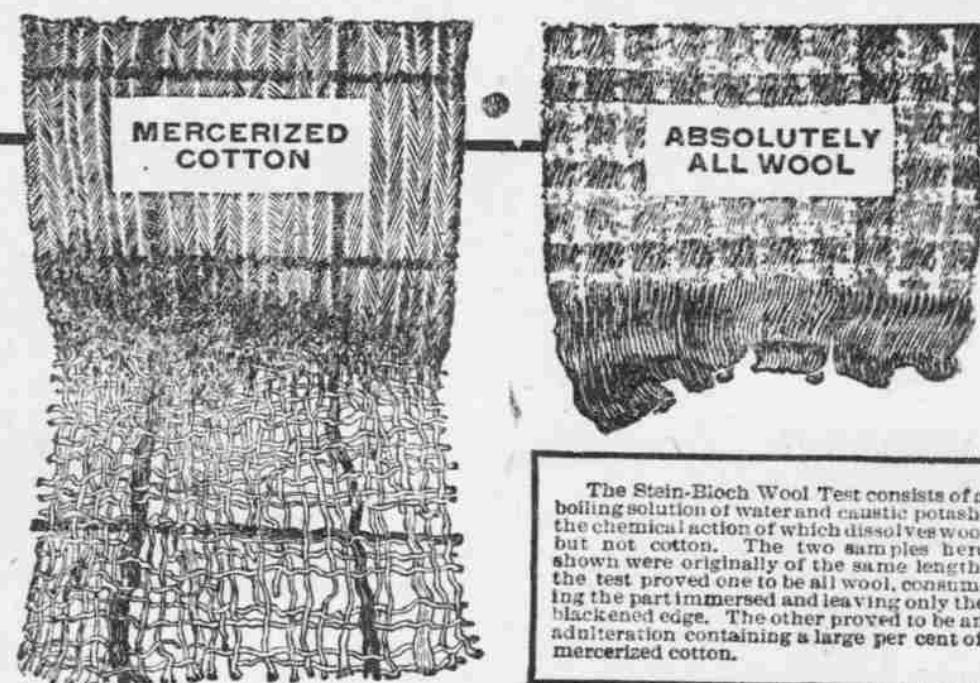

The art league has had and will always continue to have on exhibition bits of our most beautiful scenery. Now the desire is to have the most unsightly spots turned to its attention. The members of the photographic club have signified their willingness to photograph these and await developments. Any one who is interested in the improvement of the appearance of any particular location will please send the address to the chairman of the City Improvement Circle of the Kilohana Art League.

At the last meeting of the directors, Mr. Hitchcock read Mrs. Frear's resignation of the chairmanship of the literary circle. It was with much regret that this had to be accepted for the literary circle members were looking forward to a very brilliant year under that in her present position other demands upon her time will be more important. Mr. Hitchcock has not yet appointed a successor, but promises to provide a leader who will appreciate all the efforts of the past and build up a strong permanent circle in the league. All hope that Mrs. Frear will keep the Art League in mind, and when the occasion presents itself will do what she can to help on the literary work already broadening out into one of the most important branches of the entire association.

The Stein-Bloch Wool Test

Argue as they will, one fact remains: Cotton-adulterated cloth is cheap and will neither keep its shape nor wear satisfactorily under any conditions

Pure woolen cloth will.

Our Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes are made of pure wools, tested by the wool test, which is the beginning of all Stein-Bloch Clothes. Try the test yourself if you are not convinced.

If you immerse a piece of fabric of Pure Wool for twenty minutes in a pan of boiling water in which a stick of caustic potash has been dissolved that fabric will melt away and be consumed—if it is Pure Wool. If it contains a particle of COTTON the COTTON will remain intact.

This is the Wool Test. It's infallible.

For 52 years the Stein-Bloch Co. has kept its clothes untainted from the suspicion of deception. The Wool Test, applied to every fabric that comes into the Stein-Bloch shops, makes this absolutely sure.

We have on hand a fine new stock of Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.

In the salesroom a plaque that has the Hawaiian coat-of-arms in relief painted in crimson, white and gold on a pale green background. The effect is very striking and the authentic correctness of the entire design would make it a valuable possession to kamaaina and malihini alike. Upon it being shown this week, many orders were received. Mr. Rosenstein has consented to put on exhibition from time to time small pieces of his work for special sale at the league.

During the week, the cool Art League rooms have been frequented by many teachers who are in town for the summer vacation. During a pleasant meeting of several out of town and in town pedagogues, some very interesting subjects came up in conversation which savored more of the speeches that one might hear on a justification platform before the board of education.

You'd shave yourself if you had a Bengal razor, made of the steel that's tried and true. Also at Hall & Son's you will find a stock of Gillette safety and Enders ($1) safety razors. It's easy to sharpen a safety blade when you have a Dews patent blade holder. Try it.
